Torque Plunkett Research, Ltd. Whatever the model and whatever the year, an M3 has always been the fastest, most capable and most technically advanced car in its class. BMW have enjoyed motorsport success since the 1930s, but it wasn't until 1986 that the first M3 - a two-door saloon - became available, and today, more than 25 years later, it continues to set the standards by which all high-performance road cars are measured. This is the full story, covering in detail the M3's development through four evolutionary stages as well as its glittering motorsport achievements.

It's no secret that some of the most successful companies, such as 3M, Procter & Gamble, Microsoft, and Mercedes-Benz, are also known for their new product development strategies. Creating and Marketing New Products and Services teaches the key business and marketing principles needed to successfully design and launch new products and services in today's global market. It begins by providing the foundation required to understand the role of new product development in the innovating organization. The book emphasizes marketing research techniques that can help firms identify the voice of the customer and incorporate these findings into their new product development process. It addresses the role of sustainability in innovation, open innovation strategies, and international co-development efforts of new products and services. Explaining how to manage the development and marketing of new products and services, this book will teach you how to: Select a new product strategy that matches the needs of your organization Set up a disciplined process for new product development Define target market opportunities and search out high potential ideas Understand customer needs, structure them, and prioritize the needs to clearly define the benefits and values that your product will deliver Integrate marketing, engineering, R&D, and production resources to design a high-quality product that satisfies customer needs and delivers value Forecast sales before market launch based on testing of the product and the marketing plan The concepts discussed in the book can help to boost innovation and improve the performance of any type of organization. Some of the concepts presented are generic and others must be modified for each application. Together, they can lead to greater profitability and reduced risk in the new product development activities within your organization.

It gives us great pleasure to present the proceedings of the 9th Asian Conference on Computer Vision (ACCV 2009), held in Xi'an, China, in September 2009. This was the first ACCV conference to take place in mainland China. We received a total of 670 full submissions, which is a new record in the ACCV series. Overall, 35 papers were selected for oral presentation and 131 as posters, yielding acceptance rates of 5.2% for oral, 19.6% for poster, and 24.8% in total. In the paper reviewing, we continued the tradition of previous ACCVs by conducting the process in a double-blind manner. Each of the 33 Area Chairs received a pool of about 20 papers and nominated a number of potential reviewers for each paper. Then, Program Committee Chairs allocated at least three reviewers to each paper, taking into consideration any conflicts of interest and the balance of loads. Once the reviews were finished, the Area Chairs made summary reports for the papers in their pools, bas ed on the reviewers' comments and on their own assessments of the papers.

Intereffikation von Sport-PR und Sportjournalismus

For over 25 years Rob Siegel has written a monthly column called "The Hack Mechanic" for the BMW Car Club of America's magazine Roundel. In Memoirs of a Hack Mechanic, Rob Siegel shares his secrets to buying, fixing, and driving cool cars without risking the kids' tuition money or destroying his marriage. And that's something to brag about considering the dozens of cars, including twenty-five BMW 2002s, that have passed through his garage over the past three decades. With a steady dose of irreverent humor, Memoirs of a Hack Mechanic blends car stories, DIY advice, and cautionary tales in a way that will resonate with the car-obsessed (and the people who love them).

Erstmals wird das Intereffikationsmodell, mit dem die wechselseitigen Abhängigkeiten zwischen PR und Journalismus beschrieben wird, auf den Bereich Sport übertragen und empirisch analysiert: Julia Konitzer untersucht einerseits, ob es die Sport-PR schafft, PR-Informationen in der Sportberichterstattung zu platzieren. Andererseits überprüft sie, ob und inwiefern der Sportjournalismus aufbereitetes PR-Material verwendet und ob er übernommene PR-Informationen verändert. Anhand eines Mehr-Methoden-Ansatzes (Input-Output-Analyse, Online-Befragung, Leitfadeninterviews) weist die Autorin konkrete Induktionen und Adaptionen zwischen Sport-PR und Sportjournalismus nach und stellt fest, dass die PR weit davon entfernt ist, den Sportjournalismus zu determinieren oder zu instrumentalisieren. Dennoch finden beidseitige Beeinflussungen statt, die medienspezifisch unterschiedlich ausgeprägt sind.

als auch Werbetreibende sehen sich, aufgrund technologischer Entwicklungen, einer immer größer werdenden Medienvielfalt ausgesetzt. Bilderflut, Klangbrei und Informationswellen begleiten im täglichen Medienleben. Alleine in Deutschland buhlen rund 60 Fernsehsender, 300 Radiostationen, 400 Zeitungen und 600 Zeitschriften um Rezipienten. Neue Werbeformen, wie etwa Onlinewerbung, stiegen in den letzten Jahren hinzu, um am hart umkämpften Werbemarkt teilzunehmen und die Marktanteile neu zu mischen. Aufgrund sinkender Umsätze wird mittels lauter, aggressiver und extremer Werbung versucht, Kunden in die Geschäfte zu locken. Diese sind jedoch bereits soweit abgestumpft, dass die werbetreibende Wirtschaft auf immer auffälligeren Kampagnen setzen muss. "Geiz ist geil" und Preis-Aktionismus lockt zwar mehr Konsumenten in die Geschäfte, schadet aber mittel- bis langfristiger Kundenloyalität und Markenbindung. Daher ist der Kampf um die Werbespendings der Unternehmen unerbittlich hart. Werbebudgetverantwortliche hatten es in den letzten Jahren nicht leicht, oder besser gesagt, es wird immer komplexer, seine Zielgruppe mit zunehmend schrumpfenden Budgets effektiv anzusprechen. Gen gte es vor einigen Jahren noch ein paar Anzeigen in den national verf gbaren Printmedien, einige Radiospots bei den ORF Radiosendern und, sollte das Budget noch ausreichen, ein paar gut platzierte TV Spots im TV zu schalten, so hat sich die Medienlandschaft in den letzten zehn Jahren sehr stark ver ndert. Heute ist das Medienangebot vielf ltig wie nie zuvor. Auf der einen Seite haben sich ber Jahrzehnte hinweg TV, H rfunk, Print, Kino und Au enwerbung als klassische Medien etabliert, auf der anderen Seite entwickeln sich immer rasanter neue Medien. Da sich auch diese neuen Medienkan le voll oder teilweise aus Werbegeldern finanzieren, entsteht f r alle Mediengattungen ein zunehmend h rterer Wettbewerb um den Werbekuchen. Der st rkste Vertreter der neuen Medien ist sicherlich die Onlinew

The automobile industry is evolving rapidly on a worldwide basis. Manufacturers are merging, component design and manufacture are now frequently outsourced instead of being created in-house, brands are changing and the giant auto makers are expanding deeper into providing financial services to car buyers. The skyrocketing price of gas spurs developments in hybrid technology and clean diesel, as manufacturers look for ways to improve fuel efficiency. Meanwhile, all of the biggest, most successful firms have become totally global in nature. Plunkett's Automobile Industry Almanac will be your complete guide to this immense, fascinating industry. On the car dealership side, giant, nationwide holding companies have acquired the best dealers in major markets. Even the used car business is being taken over by national chains. E-commerce is having profound effects on the car industry. Consumers use the Internet to become better informed before making a purchase. Online sites like Autobytel steer millions of car buyers toward specific dealers while the same sites deliver competing bids for cars, insurance and financing in a manner that lowers costs and improves satisfaction among consumers. Meanwhile, auto makers are using the latest in e-commerce methods to manage their supply chains and replenish their inventories. This exciting new book (which includes a database on CD-ROM) is a complete reference tool for everything you need to know about the car, truck and specialty vehicles business, including: Automotive industry trends and market research; Mergers, acquisitions, globalization; Automobile manufacturers; Truck makers; Makers of specialty vehicles such as RVs; Automobile loans, insurance and other financial services; Dealerships; Components manufacturers; Retail auto parts stores; E-commerce ; and much, much more. You'll find a complete overview, industry analysis and market research report in one superb, value-priced package. This book also includes statistical tables, an automobile industry glossary, industry contacts and thorough indexes. The corporate profile section of the book includes our proprietary, in-depth profiles of the 400 leading companies in all facets of the automobile industry. Purchasers may also receive a free copy of the company profiles database on CD-ROM. Sports Car Market

 Written by experts on global marketing, Contemporary Brand Management focuses on the essentials of Brand Management in today's global marketplace. The text succinctly covers a natural sequence of branding topics, from the building of a new brand, to brand extension and the creation of a global brand, to the management of a firm's brand portfolio. The authors uniquely explore global branding as a natural expansion strategy across markets and offer numerous international brands as examples throughout. Designed for shorter strategic branding courses (half-term or 6 weeks in length), this text is the ideal companion for upper-level, graduate, or executive-level students seeking a practical knowledge of brand management concepts and applications.

 Non-crimp fabric (NCF) composites are reinforced with mats of straight (non-crimped) fibres, giving them such advantages as strength, ease of handling and low manufacturing costs. Non-crimp fabric composites provides a comprehensive review of the use of NCF composites, their manufacture and applications in engineering. Part one covers the manufacture of non-crimp fabrics, including also topics such as structural stitching and automated defect analysis. Part two goes on to discuss the manufacture of non-crimp fabric composites, with chapters covering such topics as deformability and permeability of NCF. Part three focuses on the properties of NCF composites, with chapters on stiffness and strength, damage progression and fatigue. Finally, part four covers the applications of NCF composites, including chapters on the aerospace and automotive industries as well as wind turbines and helicopter applications. The book concludes with a discussion of cost analysis of NCF composites in engineering applications. With its distinguished editor and international team of expert contributors, Non-crimp fabric composites is an essential reference for composite manufacturers and structural and mechanical engineers in industries using NCF composites, as well as academics with a research interest in the field.
