The Producer's Playbook reveals the Mystery of Love in 1 Corinthians 13:12 when acted upon: For now we see only a reflection as in a mirror; then we shall see face to face. Now I know in part; then I shall know fully, even as I am fully known. The playbook is based on three premises about love: God is Love, Love is Defined in 1 Corinthians 13, Love is a Choice, chosen by a Sovereign Spirit, each endowed with Divine Matter, Will, and Act. Based on the premises above, the Playbook explores how to reverse curses, integrate shadows, and act upon your true passion, pursuit, and purpose through the means of love defined. The playbook deep dives into the Origins of Spiritual Intelligence based on the true purpose of Lucifer's cosmic function as "bringer of light" to reveal the depth of love in the dance battle duality between good and evil when he first bit from the Fruit of Judgement, setting off a chain of events--namely the fierce faith of Eve, the true compassion of Adam, and the true love of God's son, Jesus Christ, in the alchemy of reversing the first curse that caused the first fall-- "God doubts my goodness" into the completion of the anti-curse, "...you will be like God..." Based on the true story of why Eve chose to bite from the fruit, the Producer's Playbook is in honor of Original Eve's why. It aims to deconstruct your Alchemized Shadows and reconstruct the Noble Shadow by taking on the Hero's Journey that brings meaning and purpose when transforming your life tragedies into The Love Story through the means of love defined, confined, and refined in 1 Corinthians 13. About the Author Mingjie Zhai is Founding Producer of The Love Story Media, Inc., a 501(c)3 non-profit educational organization that produces programs that transform our personal tragedies into The Love Story. The Producer's Playbook is the introduction textbook to The Producer's Program. You can find more information about The Producer's Program at www.thelovestory.org.

The Rapture Exposed Juggling Fire in the Jungle My Journey of Thirty Years in a Sustainable Community Experiment "To live cohesively is almost a fantasy and we ought to know it starts with humbling our egos." NAHKO BEAR, Medicine for the People This book chronicles the first thirty years of Bellyacres: an unintentional community of bohemian jugglers who homestead a remote jungle oasis on the Big Island of Hawai'i. The author was the founder of Bellyacres, the Village Green Society, Hawai'i's Volcano Circus and the Hawaii Sustainable Community Alliance. He also directed a renowned youth circus program that morphed into a uniquely crafted community center, hosting a school, a farmers market, performance arts workshops and shows, neighborhood events and even a church. At its peak over forty adults and children resided at Bellyacres and with its energy, food, economic, and organizational structure, it was described as one of the most sustainable ecovillages in the world. Graham Ellis has been acknowledged by Hawai'i's governor plus state and county officials, as well as the people of Puna, for being an innovative community builder, circus ringleader, and champion of sustainability. In this age of alarming climate change, cutting-edge social experiments like this -- whether 'artistic ecovillage' or 'anarchistic egovillage' -- offer lessons about how to survive -- and even thrive -- collectively. Readers who study and improve upon community developments like Bellyacres will be better prepared to create the changes that we all wish to see in the world. Witch Unleashed. Untamed. What counts as 'indigenous religion' in today's world? Who claims this category? What are the processes through which local entities become recognizable as 'religious' and 'indigenous'? How is all of this connected to struggles for power, rights and sovereignty? This book sheds light on the contemporary lives of indigenous religion(s), through case studies from Sápmi, Nagaland, Talamanca, Hawai'i, and Gujarat, and through a shared focus on translations, performances, mediation and sovereignty. It builds on long term case-studies and on the collaborative comparison of a long-term project, including shared fieldwork. At the center of its concerns are translations between a globalising discourse (indigenous religion in the singular) and distinct local traditions (indigenous religions in the plural). With contributions from leading scholars in the field, this book is a must read for students and researchers in indigenous religions, including those in related fields such as religious studies and social anthropology.

Thirty years ago, a young Colorado ski racer falls in love with the freedom and sensuality of a remote Costa Rican rainforest. However, unlike most of us who return home from our tropical vacations, she sets out to make this sensation her life, and to help others experience it. With her own hands, and the help of a Costa Rican boyfriend, she builds an ecolodge in the remote rainforest of Costa Rica's Osa Peninsula. During her journey, a tractor trailer rolls over on her, breaking her leg in four places, her house burns to the ground, and she completely runs out of money. These calamities only strengthen her resolve. In the end, she succeeds in building a lodge praised by media ranging from Travel + Leisure to CNN, and in helping people from all over the world experience one of the most biologically diverse places on earth. She also creates the nonprofit Whitehawk Foundation to save the Osa rainforest.

"I am Ra. We came to your peoples to enunciate the Law of One. We wished to impress upon those who wished to learn of unity that in unity all paradoxes are resolved; all that is broken is healed; all that is forgotten is brought to light." For thousands of years those of Ra have sought to teach the Law of One to seekers of truth on Earth who wished to learn of the unity or oneness of all things. This basic law of all creation is buried deep within each of our hearts because we really are one in love and in light, the building blocks of the universe. We are all manifestations of the One Infinite Creator. We are the Creator. We are not learning this law for the first time but are remembering it yet again as all mystics have taught throughout Earth's history. Our journey of self-realization is the discovery or remembrance of this essential truth, our essential identity. A waking up, as some have called it, within an illusion of separation. Don Elkins and Carla L. Rueckert worked together for 12 years to perfect the channeling process and receive philosophical inspiration and guidance from extraterrestrial sources. When Jim McCarty joined them in 1980 they began to receive a new and unique type of channeling contact from those of Ra. Through this contact, Ra shared information to help seekers of truth deepen their awareness and acceptance of self and other, and to help Earth move into the emerging fourth density of love and understanding. This book is the transcript from the recording of that conversation between the Questioner and Ra. Through questions & answers, the metaphysical blueprint of spiritual evolution is explored, from the microcosm to the macrocosm, from the particulars of life on this planet to the life of the cosmos, to the possibilities of healing, transformation, and self-realization for spiritual seekers and wanderers. * * * * * The Ra Contact: Teaching the Law of One Volume 2 contains Ra contact sessions 57-106. As with all L/L Research material, this book can be read for free in PDF form on the archive website www.lresearch.org.

Tucked away in the Himalayan mountains is the peaceful kingdom of Bhutan. Its mystery and beauty is impossible to overlook as is the uncommon relationship that exists among the sentient beings of the region. Pure-hearted locals reside in harmony with every inhabitant of the land, as they, too, believe that all living beings have souls. In Bhutan, its residents abide by the wisdom of the Buddha who expounded that sentient beings currently living in the animal realm have been our family and friends in past incarnations. Through beautiful photography, original artwork, and other creative inspiration, the extraordinary bond between humans and dogs is highlighted as each species supports the other's needs. In this inspirational tale of love, both humans and dogs are accorded respect as fellow sentient beings within a peaceful kingdom, demonstrating that loving compassion carries responsibility for all life.

Just as Minneapolis songwriter Jon Wayne's music career is taking off in the summer of 2008, his life is falling apart. He's homeless and begging on the streets, addicted to heroin, cocaine, alcohol and whatever other poison he's putting into his body. He'll overdose three times that summer before embarking on his seventh trip to rehab. As he begins his newfound sobriety on Sept. 14, 2008, he knows getting clean has to stick this time because it's no longer a choice of whether or not to get high; it's a choice of life or death. Growing up in bucolic Jamestown, North Dakota, Wayne enters rehab for the first time at 18 after a brief yet voracious dance with cocaine addiction. His struggles with addiction and sobriety will take him to Fargo, where he parties, delivers pizzas and attends chef school, and ultimately to Minneapolis, where he makes music - forming reggae band Jon Wayne and the Pain in 2006 - and discovers heroin, the answer to the ever-present voice in his head. One More Trip is one man's story of survival and redemption set against the backdrop of a non-stop music career in a drug-prone work zone. Author Thom Wilder weaves the inspirational tale of Jon Wayne's moment of truth in overcoming addiction, changing his life, correcting his mistakes and making amends.

But when I found him shot to death on the floor of his office, I had no choice. I had to track down the person responsible. And not just to lay Del to rest, either. Next to his body, the office safe was wide open, and a contract worth millions was missing...
