"This book focuses on students, a pragmatic approach to treatment, regard for multidisciplinary perspectives, and respect for the influence of families on clients. Chapter 1 identifies concerns that new therapists frequently have, such as building confidence in their clinical work. Chapters 2-6 follow the usual time sequence of therapy--from initial contact with clients, to comprehensive assessment, to treatment planning and intervention. Chapters 7-10 deal with specific clinical situations based on presenting problems and the nature of client families. We examine major issues and approaches for working with children and adolescents, older adults, couples, and families that are struggling with serious mental illness. Chapter 11 highlights some common obstacles all therapists encounter, and provides concrete ideas on how to get unstuck when treatment is not progressing. Chapter 12 focuses on an often overlooked part of therapy--termination. In Chapter 13, we conclude the book by looking at emerging issues within family therapy"--

Making the Most of Weddings Baker Books
Drawing on fifty-nine years of experience as a Catholic priest, Fr. Kereszty provides spiritual, psychological, and pastoral guidance to priests, deacons and seminarians for preaching, sacramental ministry and spiritual direction. He has worked with countless priests struggling to understand their own role and identity in the post-conciliar Church with the laity taking on more leadership and responsibilities. He has also dealt with the confusion and discouragement from the sexual abuse crisis, though a very small percentage of priests, that left many young men wondering "Why join a system in which everyone is suspect?" He uses the insights of St. Bernard, St. Therese of Lisieux, Popes St. John Paul II and Benedict XVI to assist the next generations of priests by accomplishing the following in this book:

- explores the signs and development of priestly and diaconal vocations
- gives advice on preaching, on the ways to prepare for adult baptism, and on the instruction of the parents and godparents for the baptism of a child.

shows how all the activities of the Church find their fulfillment in the celebration of the Eucharist and how our sincere participation in the Eucharist is manifested in our daily lives

- advice on how to help the different kinds of confessants in the sacrament of reconciliation: children, adolescents, young adults, the old and dying, returning "lost sheep," genuine holy souls, the scrupulous, porn addicts, homosexuals
- guidance on marriage preparation, and the different problems in the stages of married life, including reasons for the Church's teaching on contraception

- advice to priests on their important role in spiritual direction

His desire is that this book will re-ignite the great gift that priests have received in ordination, and to communicate his own immense joy and gratitude for that gift. Lastly, he tells all priests: to have a happy priestly life, strive to be a true priest of Jesus Christ in service to his flock.
